

Fig. 1.

Microagglutination test with stained phase I C. burnetii antigen. Agglutination is shown by a film of antigen over the bottom of the tube: a negative reaction is shown by a sharply-defined button
1—8: Serum samples.

Files from left to right: serum dilutions 1 : 2, 1 : 4, 1 : 8, . . . , 1 : 512, 1 : 1024; empty file; negative controls are shown in the file on the right side of the plate.