

Sincerely yours,

Dr. Joseph Shevel
 President

For further information, please contact the programme administrator or visit our website.
 You have accumulated experiences and fine-tuned expertise. How can you continue to develop?
 The first step is here- at the 17th MHEI Seminar of Harvard - Galilee College.
 Creativity is a vital new component that we cannot ignore in the ever growing and competitive market. Even having both funds and means cannot assure the birth of something new; but creativity can and does.

Creativity and Entrepreneurship

Ensuring that appropriate standards are being achieved, a good quality education is being offered to the students and encouraging continuous improvement in the management of the quality of higher education.

Quality Assurance

Practices, approaches, methods and case studies will be discussed in special forums, workshops and discussions comprising theoretical and practical knowledge, addressed by experts in their fields.

Fund Raising

Harvard. Among the many topics covered, emphasis will be placed upon the following:
 Higher Education Institutions" which will be taking place from 15th to 26th January 2007 in conjunction with
 It is my pleasure to inform you that registration is now open to attend our 17th seminar in "Management of opportunities in the wide open space of difficulties and uncertainties.
 continuing education programme at Harvard University) are proud to offer you a seminar that opens the need for greater efficiency, we, at Galilee College and Harvard Extension School (the largest
 As the higher education sector is now going through a most significant change in terms of globalisation and Albert Einstein said: "In the middle of difficulty lies opportunity".

Galilee College in Conjunction with Harvard Extension School
Management of Higher Education Institutions Seminar (MHEI)
January 15 – 26, 2007